THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

The United States District Court on a plea in equity filed by Fredrick L. Ames estate and others, placed the Union Pacific Railroad in the hands of receivers. The liabilities of the company, including capital stock and surplus, are $245,431,041.02. The company has outstanding bonds and notes for $97,082,735, of which $85,492,735 were at the last annual meeting. This does not include the subsidiary indebtedness to the Government which amounts to $55,000 more.

The petition shows that the gross earnings of the Union Pacific system for the business year ending December 31, 1892, amounted to $48,503,539.35, and the operating expenses, interest and other charges paid during the same year amounted to $44,503,539.35, leaving a surplus for said year of $2,000,000. From January 1st to July 1, 1893, there was a falling off in the gross revenues of the company as compared with the first six months of the preceding year of $863,733.38, and a falling off in the net revenues of the company for the same time of $811,059.06. For the months of July and August, 1893, there was a further falling off in the gross revenues of the company of $2,000,000 and of the net revenues of $1,400,000, as compared with the same months of the year 1892.

Congress has passed a resolution relating to the receivership of the road. It calls upon the Attorney-General to inform the House what legislation, if any, is necessary to secure the indebtedness of the Union Pacific to the Government? This is expected to result in important developments in the relations of the company and the Government, which were materially changed when the road went into the hands of receivers. It is held that under the common law the receivers are authorized to convert the assets of the company and issue receivers' certificates to operate the road. These certificates constitute liens which must be satisfied before the Government debt. The insolvency of the company makes it impossible for it to discharge its obligations to the Government, some of which mature in 1895. This condition of affairs will necessitate action by Congress at an early day, and unless a bill is passed to refund the indebtedness of the company to the Government the United States may go into the business of operating a railroad within the next two years.

A COMPROMISE PROBABLE.

Advices from Washington are to the effect that a substitute for the repeal bill will be introduced in the Senate this week. What this substitute will be is not made known to the public as its advocates intend to keep its provisions secret until they have assurance that it will get sufficient support to secure its passage. The champions of the repeal bill, who to please the Administration insist on unconditional repeal of the Sherman act, are opposed to any substitute or compromise. The Silver Senators who have fought so manfully against repeal, are also opposed to compromise. They feel that the people are with them in the contest and that nothing less than free coinage will settle the silver question. It is probable, however, that an amendment or substitute for the Sherman act may be passed by the Senate to tide the question over until the next Congress, when it becomes apparent to the Administration Senators that unconditional repeal is impossible.

It is believed that the House will pass any substitute measure that will get through the Senate. Many of the Congressmen who voted for the repeal bill are hearing from their constituents in tones that are not pleasing to their ears and they will be glad to have opportunity to partially rectify their mistake by voting for a compromise measure.

THE SHOE ON THE OTHER FOOT.

Senator Wolcott of Colorado is showing up the inconsistency of the New York World and the New York Herald in denouncing the course of the silver men in the Senate. He says those papers were loudest in approving similar tactics on the part of Senators in January, 1891, when the Force bill was before the Senate. Then the World said: "Every device for delay must be used in the Senate; no legal act of any conceivable kind done to prevent the passage of the bill will be other than praiseworthy."

At the same time the Herald said: "The minority are quite right to cause delay by every means within their reach. A cloture resolution is revolutionary and should not be tolerated."

Wolcott says the Force bill of 1891 was unconditional repeal of the Sherman act. Voorhees, Gorman and other Senators who are now trying to force the gold standard on the country were then prepared to sit up all night to prevent the passage of the Force bill, and many of the goldbug papers encouraged them to do so. It does make a good deal of difference whose ox is gored.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

Twenty-Six Republicans in Favor of Repeal—Voorhees Moves to Adjourn.

WASHINGTON, October 17.—Dolph asked that the journal be corrected to show the presence of Allen and Kyle on the sundry colloquies yesterday, they having been present in the Senate, but failed to vote. Dolph said that it had become apparent that if Senators could talk indefinitely and read from papers and books without limit, the Senate, without an amendment to the rules or a different construction on those it had, must drift along without accomplishing anything. Twenty-six Republican Senators not only favored the repeal of the Sherman act, but would vote to amend the rules so the majority could limit debate. He regarded it as farcical for a Senator to suggest the absence of a quorum and then on roll-call refuse to vote. The Senate was being brought into disrepute by such a course.

Faulkner of West Virginia, who was in the chair last evening and ruled on the resolution then offered by Dolph that the names of Allen and Kyle be recorded, said he had no power to record the Senators as present under the rules.

Hill of New York said there was no reason why, in the absence of rules, the presiding officer should not tell the truth and make the journal reflect to tell lies. The presiding officer had a right to exercise his senses, and when a member sat right in front of him and did not vote, to have the journal show the fact of his presence. The Senate was clinging to past traditions and there was no sense in it. The duty of a Senator is more than merely remaining in his seat. It was his duty to take part in the business. To hold that the only way to ascertain the presence of a Senator was his response to roll call involved an absurdity.

The Vice President ruled that nothing was in order except matters pertaining to the approval of the journal.

Dolph moved that the name of Allen be entered in connection with the roll call at 6:30 last evening. He chose this, as Allen's name appeared at that time as having taken part in the colloquy. Discussion on the point of order that Allen should be recorded as present is still engrossing attention. Hill contended at great length that the presiding officer had power to count a quorum.

Sherman followed Hill. He said the Senate was surely drifting toward a change in rules, but a change was not pending consideration of the financial question.

On motion of Voorhees the Senate adjourned until 10 A. M. to-morrow.

The House passed the Cox Banking bill.

Shot by His Mother-in-Law.

CORPAX, Wash., October 16.—Eugene Prescott, a farmer, twelve miles southwest of this place, was shot and seriously injured Saturday evening by his mother-in-law, Mrs. J. M. Sutton. One ball passed through his left shoulder and the other took effect in his right side. Some time ago Prescott had Mrs. Sutton arrested and tried on a charge of insanity, but the charge was not sustained, and the Court reprimanded Prescott severely for his accusations, which seemed to be part of a plot to get the old lady's property. The two have been bitter enemies ever since. Just before the shooting Prescott started across Mrs. Sutton's field and she ordered him back. He persisted and she fired.

She is a widow. Her husband was Captain of an Ohio company all through the civil war.

Robbed a Bank.

SPOKANE, Wash., October 17.—A bold robbery occurred at Coeur d'Alene city, Idaho, last night. Shortly after midnight three masked men entered Dickey & Brecker's gambling house, in which a dozen men were playing, and at the point of three guns they held up the crowd and robbed the bank of $11,000.

Edward Haverly, one of the robbers, was captured to-day and the Sheriff's posse is in hot pursuit of the other two.

Corbett Money.

ST. LOUIS, October 17.—Twenty-five hundred dollars were received here from New York this morning to cover $2,500 alleged to have been offered by Tom Allen as a wager that Mitchell will whip Corbett in the coming fight.

One Year's Imprisonment.

NEW YORK, October 17.—Emma Goldman, the anarchist, who was convicted of unlawful assembly in the Court of General Sessions last week, was to-day sentenced by Judge Martin to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Tovey's Supposed Murderer on Trial.

JACKSON, Cal., October 17.—The trial of William Evans for the murder of Michael Tovey, Wells-Fargo's messenger, on the 15th of June last, on Stony bridge, on the trip of the stage from Ione to Jackson, began at 10 o'clock this morning in the Superior Court before Judge John F. Davis. District Attorney E. C. Best appeared for the people and D. B. Spagnoli for the defense.

Great interest has been aroused in the case, both on account of the dramatic nature of the tragedy itself, and the conflicting rumors arising from the fact that the defendant entered a plea of guilty at his preliminary examination before Justice Goldner and entered a plea of "not guilty" upon his arraignment.

They are now full-fledged Populists.

OAKLAND, October 17.—There was a quiet little political renunciation meeting in Liberty Hall yesterday afternoon. Major McElrath, an old-time Democrat, said he had voted the Democratic ticket for the last time, and Judge E. M. Gibson, an older Republican, formally repudiated his Republicanism. The Major was then and there elected President and the Judge Second Vice President of the People's Party Club, which has just been organized, and they are now full-fledged Populists. The movement of these two prominent gentlemen will likely be followed by many others.

Moors and Spaniards.

MADRID, October 17.—Advices from Melilla say the Moors are strongly entrenched and making daring sallies against the Spaniards, whose position is now regarded as serious. The reinforcements which have arrived at Melilla are utterly inadequate, and fully 15,000 men will be required in order to enable the Spaniards to take the offensive. The delay in the dispatch of a sufficient force to reinforce the troops now at Melilla is explained by the fact that the Government here is desirous of awaiting the result of the negotiations now going on between Madrid and Tangiers.

Punishing White Caps.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., October 17.—The celebrated White Cap trial at Salem closed to-day. Elijah Dalton, his brother, who held Mrs. Dalton, and John Holsapple, who whipped her, each got five years. Boling, who was present, but did not interfere, got three years, and Barnett, who was present, but was too drunk to take part, received two years.

A Treasury statement shows the value of imports for nine months in 1893 was $625,385,623, and of exports $603,164,183; excess of imports over exports $22,221,440. For the corresponding months of 1892 the excess of imports over exports was $28,204,000.

W. L. Patton, of the firm of Patton & Co., New York, which failed last May for $800,000 with practically no assets, has been arrested on a charge of hypothecating $60,000 of trust certificates and appropriating to his own use $250,000 belonging to creditors.

For Bronchitis

"I never realized the good of a medicine so much as I have in the last few months, during which time I have suffered intensely from pneumonia, followed by bronchitis. After trying various remedies without benefit, I began the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and the effect has been marvelous, a single dose relieving me of choking, and securing a good night's rest."—T. A. Higginbotham, Gen. Store, Long Mountain, Va.

La Grippe

"Last Spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breath seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I begun using it than I felt relieved. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, S. Dak.

Lung Trouble

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured. I can confidently recommend this medicine."—Franz Hofmann, Clay Centre, Kans.

The two large show windows in F. O. Robins &amp; Co.'s store at Winnemucca were broken by thieves last Monday morning and several suits of men's underclothing and two or three pairs of ladies' shoes were stolen therefrom.

Two log chains, which had evidently fallen from a wood wagon, were stretched across the rails where the road crosses the Orr ditch, above town last evening. The engine and pay car ran over the chains, and caused the train men to think that a job had been put up to ditch the train. The section foreman has the chains and the owner can get them by calling on him.

The New Era says: The Dun Glen mill, built by Spencer and Hammond, Portland, Or., capitalists, has been closed. The mill was of a new model, which had been successfully operated on a small scale, but proved a failure in this practical test. Nevada, it appears, was preordained an experimental ground for new tangled mining and milling machinery.

They are Subject to the Whims of the Bondholders and Money Sharks.

The assessed value of all the property in the United States is about $25,000,000,000. This property is supposed to be liable for the following debts: $3,000,000,000 of National, State, county, city, school district and irrigation bonds; the railroads have a funded debt of $5,250,000,000; other corporations have a bonded debt of $3,000,000,000; the liability of the banks to depositors is nearly $5,000,000,000; the personal notes against corporations and individuals not secured by real estate, $10,000,000,000; floating debts of the people and corporations, including accrued and unpaid interest, $15,000,000,000. Which makes a grand total of $47,250,000,000, or nearly double the assessed valuation of all the property. In the assessed valuation is included a large amount of this evidence of debt which makes the liability against the remainder of the property more disproportionate than the assessors' figures would indicate. A great many people think that the assessors' figures are far below the real value, and a great many enthusiasts have inflated the wealth of the United States (in their imagination) to $65,000,000,000.

Now, let us see why the value of property in the United States, which is so thoroughly soaked with debts, is subject to the whims of the money sharks. According to the Director of the Mint, there is about $1,700,000,000 of full and partial legal tender available for circulation, the $600,000,000 of gold coin being the full legal tender and the $1,100,000,000 of other money is saturated with its and exceptions which makes it legal tender only where the gold clause is not inserted. As nearly all the bonds have the gold clause inserted, it practically makes the bulk of the interest bearing debt payable in gold. The bondholding money sharks of Europe hold $5,000,000,000 of gold interest bearing securities against the property in the United States. The money sharks in the northeastern section of the United States hold at least $10,000,000,000 of securities against their fellow men. This $15,000,000,000 of securities calls for $750,000,000 of gold interest every year. As this interest charge would absorb twenty-five per cent. more gold than there is in the United States, the money sharks, feeling their advantage, tell their bondmen to stand and deliver, and the poor debtor, not being able to do an impossibility, is obliged to yield up his property at any price the money shark puts upon it, and some of the best real estate in the United States has been known to shrink 80 per cent. in value in a year by the money sharks enforcing their demands for gold.

The claim of the bondholders that the immense real estate mortgage debt of the West is caused by their rapid development is not substantiated by the figures of the Census Department. New York State, which is the home of a great many bondholders, is more thoroughly mortgaged than any State in the Union; and New York city's real estate mortgage is the largest per capita mortgage of any community in the world. Its real estate is mortgaged for $593,684,530. In addition it has a city debt of $150,000,000, and its corporations and chattels are bonded to their utmost capacity. New York State and Pennsylvania are two of the original thirteen colonies, and their resources have been developed for a great many years, and yet their real estate mortgage debt is more than a third of the total for the United States, and growing as fast as compound interest can make it. If the balance of the United States was in debt in a like ratio the public and private debts of the people would amount to more than $100,000,000,000.

It looks as if this vast debt ought to be growing fast enough to satisfy the most ambitious money shark, but it is not. They are doing their utmost to contract the currency by completely demonetizing silver and forcing the Government to increase its gold reserve by the sale of bonds, which would take a large sum of gold out of circulation. The demand for money would then be twice as great as it is now and the money shark could draw up just as bloodcurdling a bond as he wished. He could collect his interest in advance and compound it as often as he chose, and the poor, trembling debtor would have to be thankful that he was allowed to exist.

THE COMSTOCK LODE.

This is Not the First Crisis on the Great Lode.

The Virginia Chronicle publishes the following from the annual report of Theodore Sutro, President of the Comstock Tunnel Company:

Although a retrospect of the year discloses little that is satisfactory, confidence in the future should not on that account be lost. This is not the first crisis through which the Comstock Lode has passed. In 1870 the market value of the entire lode, as represented in shares, was about $4,000,000, while in 1875, after the discovery of the bonanzas in the California and Virginia mines, it appreciated to about $275,000,000. In 1882 it had again declined to about $3,000,000, but on the discovery of the new ore body in the mine of the Consolidated California & Virginia Company in 1886, the market value again rose to about $36,000,000.

THE BRUNEAU MINES.

The Silver State Tells How to Get to Them.

The Winnemucca Silver State is requested to publish information as to the best way to reach the new Bruneau gold fields.—Virginia Chronicle.

Elko is the nearest point on the railroad. There is a fine wagon road from Elko via Wayland's, Tucker's Murphy's ranch, Mrs. Johnson's, Mr. Stofel's, Island mountain, and Hugh Martin's to the summit immediately south of Bruneau river. This route leads to one of the new mining districts on the river. To go to the lower district the road forks a few miles this side of Island mountain and passes through Mountain City in the northern part of Elko county. To strike the Bruneau river at another district and in the vicinity of the middle fork of the Bruneau river, the town of Deeth on the railroad above Elko is the proper place to leave the railroad.

A person going from western Nevada by team or horseback, would follow the Humboldt river to Winnemucca, thence to Paradise, thence to Tuscara, or to Golconda thence to Tuscara; or to Battle Mountain thence to Tuscara. There is not much difference between the last named routes. At Tuscara they can be put on the best route from there. The route from Tuscara we are not acquainted with.

To go the upper district or the middle fork the Deeth route is the proper one. The Elko route has the advantage of good accommodations at the ranches every ten or twelve miles after arriving at Wayland's, which is 23 miles from Elko.—Silver State.

LINCOLN COUNTY DEBT.

The Commissioners Issue Script to the Bondholders.

In the proceedings of the Board of Commissioners of Lincoln county published in the Pioche Record the following appears:

The interesting feature of the day's business then came up in the consideration of the claims of Sutro, Luning and Vincent, judgment creditors of the county on the bonded indebtedness. The claims amounting to $357,656.57, were: Luning Co., $37,236.57, which interest on $49,400 at 10 per cent from Nov. 8th, 1888, and $688.82 costs, total $119,862.13; and C. D. Vincent, $95,761.05, with interest on $45,000 at 10 per cent from Nov. 1888, total $117,263.34; and Chas. Sutro, total amount of claim $120,530.57, with interest on $56,700 at 10 per cent from Nov. 1888, interest to August 1st, 1892, amounting to $26,806.50. The opinion of Hon. Geo. S. Sawyer had been obtained on the matter and was read and the claims allowed as presented, made payable out of the general fund of the county. It is expected that this course will end the running of interest and the claims are now payable in ordinary course of business from the general fund, scrip to issue as in other cases in the absence of funds wherewith to pay.

And in accordance therewith, the bills were allowed as follows:

Luning Co. .... $119,862.13
C. D. Vincent ..... 117,263.34
Chas. Sutro ..... 120,530.57

Fast Stock Round West.

On the west-bound overland express, which arrived in Reno yesterday noon, several hours behind time, there was a carload of race horses bound for San Francisco. The following ten thoroughbreds were in the string: Tim Murphy, Whitestone, Clara White, Zoolien, Penny Royal, Harry Lewis, Georgetown, Boadhead, Tactianka and Jessie R, a two-year-old filly. The horses are all Eastern stock and come from Chicago and will stay in California during the winter. The animals will be entered in the races to take place during the Midwinter Fair. This morning some more horses will pass through on the overland express, among them the celebrated flyer Lamplighter, one of the fastest horses on the American turf today.

"August Flower"

For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said stomach was about worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food for a time at least. I was so weak that I could not work. Finally on the recommendation of a friend who had used your preparations with beneficial results, I procured a bottle of August Flower, and commenced using it. It seemed to do me good at once. I gained in strength and flesh rapidly; my appetite became good, and I suffered no bad effects from what I ate. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has entirely cured me of Dyspepsia in its worst form. JAMES E. DEDRICK, Saugerties, New York.

W. B. Utsey, St. George's, S. C., writes: I have used your August Flower for Dyspepsia and find it an excellent remedy.

THE MIDSPOT OF OUR PLANET.

Many Places Which Contest the Honor. Their Claims.

For several centuries different cities of the Orient have contested with each other for the honor of being recognized as the midspot of our planet. In 1888 a London geographer issued an elaborate work, in which he tried to prove the British metropolis to be the center of the landed surface of the globe. Jerusalem and Delphi, notwithstanding that neither is situated on or very near the equator, have for ages been the two main contestants in this great central city controversy.

William Simpson of the London Society For the Exploration of Palestine tells us that Herr Schick has sent home drawings of the spot in Jerusalem which is supposed by some to be the exact center of our world. This interesting place is in the Greek church, nine feet to the right of the reliquary containing what purports to be the crown of thorns worn by our Saviour, the first nail that was driven through his right hand and the blood which he shed on that memorable occasion.

It is written in the Psalms, "God is my king of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth."

This can only refer to the scenes of the passion and of the holy sepulcher. The midspot of the earth must, therefore, be sought in that vicinity. The belief that the center of the earth is at Jerusalem is very ancient for it is alluded to by St. Ephrem in his reference to Noah's prayer over the bones of Adam. St. Ephrem says, "And Noah buried Adam's bones in the middle of the earth." A certain round stone in the temple of Delphi is also spoken of by the ancient writers as being the "navel or center of the earth."

Orestes takes refuge there when pursued by his pursuers. Pindar also makes mention of the exact location of the center of the world and Pausanias, like Herr Schick, also had the pleasure of beholding the only genuine central hub of our planet. He, however, locates it at Delphi instead of at Jerusalem. "It is made," he said, "of white stone, smooth and polished, and is no doubt the middle point of the world."—Philadelphia Press.

A Mean Trick.

A lawyer defending a promissory note went to lunch, leaving his books and citations on the table in the courtroom. The opposing counsel sneaked back into the room and changed the places of all his bookshelves. In the afternoon the lawyer, taking up his books, referred the court to his authorities. His lordship noted every volume and page carefully and took the case under consideration. In entering his opinion he said:

"I was inclined after hearing argument of counsel for defendant to non-suit plaintiff, but I find, after referring to the authorities quoted by counsel, none of them bear on this case, and I am led to think that the gentleman has been willfully trying to insult the court. He has referred me to an action of an Irishman who sued the proprietor of a monkey for damages for biting him to a case of arson, one of burglary, two of petty larceny and three divorce cases, none of which bears on an action to recover on a promissory note. Perhaps the grossest insult to the court is referring to 'Duckworth versus Bozeman,' an action charging defendant with breach of promise. Judgment for plaintiff with costs."

The lawyer never knew what the matter was and to this day thinks the judge was out of his mind.—Pearson's Weekly.

Finest Dead Man.

Down in southwestern Texas, just about midway between Houston in the east and El Paso in the west, and very near to the Rio Grande, the Southern Pacific railway has built over the Pecos river the highest bridge in the United States. Just before this bridge was finished one of the workmen fell from it and was of course killed.

The county judge was brought from Langtry, the town nearest to the bridge, to hold a "crown's quest." The judge arrived with a great concourse of people, all anxious to serve on the jury. Proceedings were begun by examining the body of the dead man. Upon this were found a loaded revolver and $40 in cash. Perceiving this, the judge said:

"There ain't nothing to do about this case, gentlemen of the jury. The man's dead, and it's perfectly plain how he met his death. But what I want to know is, what was he doing with that gun? That's against the laws of Texas. He ain't here to explain, but because a man takes it into his head to put on wings and mount to the skies is no reason why the great state of Texas should be defrauded. Law is law and justice is justice. I fine him $40 for carrying a deadly weapon." It is needless to say that the fine was paid.—Harper's Magazine.

The Gallows Plant.

During the middle ages the botanists, or old "herbalists," gave currency to many curious stories concerning the growth, form, etc., of mandrakes or May apple, which finally resulted in its being given the name of "gallows plant." The persons scientists of that time declared that mandrakes would grow in no other place except upon which some terrible crime had been committed. The roots were formerly supposed to bear a strong resemblance to the human form and are figured in the old "Herbals" which lie before me as I write, even distinguished as to sex, the female of the plant having long hair; the male, heavy beard.—St. Louis Republic.

Older Than He Was.

"I say, boy," remarked a tourist to a youngster, "what's the name of that hill yonder?"

"Dunno," replied the lad briefly. "Don't know? Lived here all your life, I'll warrant, and don't know the name of that little hill? Well, I am surprised," continued the pilgrim.

"No, I dunno its name," replied the lad, stung by the criticism. "Anyhow," he continued, "the hill was here before I com'd."—New York Herald.

A Just but Lenient Judge.

An unusual incident occurred in the city court at Savannah a few days ago. Judge McDonnell was tardy in putting in an appearance, for which he fined himself $10 and then promptly admitted the fine. His honor went to see his physician to have his arm, which he recently injured, dressed, and the doctor kept him a little longer than he had counted on. When he entered the courtroom, the hands on the clock above the judge's desk pointed to just 10 minutes past 10.

Judge McDonnell took note of the fact and said: "In accordance with the rules of this court every officer who comes in late is subject to a fine. The clerk will therefore, enter a fine of $10 against the court for tardiness, to be paid into the registry of the court. Owing to the fact, however, that this is the first time this thing has happened, and also that the court had to be detained in order to have its arm dressed, the clerk will remit the fine."—Baltimore Sun.

English Taught in French Schools.

The French minister of public instruction has issued a circular which will have the effect of greatly stimulating the study of the English language in France. In all the higher schools and training colleges the compulsory studies hitherto have included two modern languages, one of which must be German. This order is now annulled.

Two modern languages will be the rule as before, and one will remain at the option of the pupil, but as to the other he can choose between German and English. Moreover, the time given to the study of German is reduced by two hours, while that devoted to English is increased by the same length of time, and pupils will begin their English lessons one year earlier than hitherto.—London News.

A Phosphorescent Tree.

A large willow tree on the bank of Tan run in Frankfort fell over recently and developed into a natural curiosity. The inside of the tree, which has been dead for several years, was found to be a mass of phosphorescent light known as fire fox. As darkness came on and the curious phenomenon was discovered, hundreds of people gathered, and as many as could get around the old trunk went to work with hatchets and knives to secure specimens. Soon the ground around was strewn with small chips, which glittered like so many little stars.—Philadelphia Record.

A Live Toad In a Hailstone.

A hailstorm visited Pawtucket about 10 o'clock Saturday evening, such as has not visited this vicinity for years, if within the memory of man. One woman picked up a large hailstone and allowed it to melt in her hand. She thought something was inside the little piece of frozen rain, but was surprised to find when all had melted a little live toad or frog in her hand. There is a quite general belief that a great many pebbles came down with the hail.—Providence Journal.

John and Margaret Bellamy of Fort Wayne were united in marriage six years ago by Squire Franco. Differences arose and a divorce followed. Recently they were again married by the same squire.

The Philadelphia zoo is in danger of losing its fine collection of animals and birds, according to a local newspaper, because of a lack of funds.

WHAT DO YOU take medicine for?

Because you want to get well, or keep well, of course. Remember Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

A large party of foreign agricultural commissioners to the World's fair, under the escort of Governor Shortridge of North Dakota, saw some harvesting operations in that great wheat country a few days ago which must have opened their eyes, accustomed as they are to the small acreages of Europe. During through a vast wheatfield from a distance by the horizon, they beheld as many as 43 twine binders moving in a steady procession half a mile long and cutting great swaths of grain.

They were told by the owner of this farm that in harvesting time he cut a square mile of grain in a day and employed 80 men to shock it up. At noon the visitor sat down to a prairie chicken dinner on a mammoth scale, which excited their surprise almost as much as the prairie acres on which they gazed.

Afterward they visited the famous Dahylo farm, covering 54,000 acres of ground, and saw numerous thrashing machines making their inroads into the stacks of wheat which it required 130 twain binders a from two to three weeks to cut.—New York Post.

The sultan has a right royal terror of smallpox, and he is very particular to have the household thoroughly vaccinated.

Mothers, and especially nursing mothers, need the strengthening support and help that comes with Dr. Price's Favorite Prescription. It lessens the pains and burdens of childbearing, insures healthy, vigorous offspring, and promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment on the part of the mother. It is an invigorating tonic and made especially for women, perfectly harmless in any condition of the female system, as it regulates and promotes all the natural functions and never conflicts with them.

The "Prescription" builds up, strengthens, and cures. In all the chronic weaknesses and disorders that afflict women, it is guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded.

For every case of catarrh which they cannot cure, the proprietors of Dr. Sages Catarrh Remedy agree to pay $500 cash. You are cured by the mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties, or you're paid.
